5. CHANGE OF PURPOSE

- 5.1. We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose.
- 5.2. If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.
- 5.3. Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

6. OTHERS WHO MAY RECEIVE OR HAVE ACCESS TO YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

6.1. Our customers, suppliers and service providers

We may disclose your information to our third-party service providers, customers, potential customers, suppliers, sub-contractors, and other organisations for the purposes of providing services to us or directly to you on our behalf. Such third parties may include cloud services providers (such as website hosting and email management), administrative services or other third parties who provide services to us.

When we use third party product or service providers, we only disclose to them any personal information that is necessary for them to provide their service and they too have a legal obligation that requires them to keep your information secure and not to use it other than in accordance with our specific instructions.

6.2. Other ways we may share your personal information

We may transfer your personal information to a third party as part of a sale of some or all of our business to any third party or as part of any business restructuring or reorganisation. We may also transfer your personal information if we're under a duty to disclose or share it in order to comply with any legal obligation, to detect or report a crime, to enforce or apply the terms of our contracts or to protect the rights, property or safety of our visitors and customers.

However, we will always take steps with the aim of ensuring that your privacy rights continue to be protected.

7. HOW LONG WE KEEP YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

7.1. If we collect your personal information, the length of time we retain it is determined by a number of factors including the purpose for which we use that information and our obligations under other laws and for warranty purposes.

7.2. We do not retain personal information in an identifiable format for longer than is necessary.

7.3. We may need your personal information to establish, bring or defend legal claims, in which case we will retain your personal information for at least 10 years after the last occasion on which we have used your personal information in one of the ways specified in 'How we use your personal information' in Section 4.

7.4. The only exceptions to this are where:

- the law requires us to hold your personal information for a longer period, or delete it sooner;
- you exercise your right to have the information erased (where it applies) and we do not need to hold it in connection with any of the reasons permitted in this section 8, or because we are required under the law (see further Erasing your personal information or restricting its processing in Section 9.6); and
- in limited cases, the law permits us to keep your personal information indefinitely, provided we put certain protections in place.
- In certain circumstances our legitimate interests will require us to hold your data following the conclusion of any business between our parties as part of industry and regulatory requirements to hold this data.

8. YOUR RIGHTS

8.1. Your 'data subject' rights:

You have a number of rights in relation to your personal information under data protection law. In relation to certain rights, we may ask you for information to confirm your identity and, where applicable, to help us to search for your personal information. Except in rare cases, we will respond to you within 30 days after we have received this information or, where no such information is required, after we have received your request.

8.2. Accessing your personal information

You have the right to ask for a copy of the information that we hold about you by emailing or writing to us at the address at the end of this policy. We may not provide you with a copy of your personal information if this concerns other individuals or we have another lawful reason to withhold that information.

8.3. Correcting and updating your personal information

The accuracy of your information is important to us. If you change your name or address/email address, contact telephone number, account details, or you discover that any of the other information we hold is inaccurate or out of date, please let us know by contacting us.

8.4. Withdrawing your consent

Where we rely on your consent as the legal basis for processing your personal information, as set out under 'How we use your personal information' in Section 4, you may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting us using the details at the end of this policy. If you withdraw your consent, our use of your personal information before you withdraw is still lawful.

8.5. Objecting to our use of your personal information and automated decisions made about you.

Where we rely on our legitimate business interests as the legal basis for processing your personal information for any purpose(s), as in under 'How we use your personal information' in Section 4, you may object to us using your personal information for these purposes by emailing or writing to us at the address at the end of this policy. Except for the purposes for which we are sure we can continue to process your personal information, we will temporarily stop processing your personal information in line with your objection until we have investigated the matter. If we agree that your objection is justified in accordance with your rights under data protection laws, we will permanently stop using your data for those purposes. Otherwise we will provide you with our justification as to why we need to continue using your data.

You may object to us using your personal information for direct marketing purposes and we will automatically comply with your request.

8.6. Erasing your personal information or restricting its processing

In certain circumstances, you may ask for your personal information to be removed from our systems by emailing or writing to us at the address at the end of this policy. Unless there is a reason that the law allows us to use your personal information for longer, we will make reasonable efforts to comply with your request.

You may also ask us to restrict processing your personal information in the following situations:

- where you believe it is unlawful for us to do so,
- you have objected to its use and our investigation is pending or you require us to keep it in connection with legal proceedings.

In these situations, we may only process your personal information whilst its processing is restricted if we have your consent or are legally permitted to do so, for example for storage purposes, to protect the rights of another individual or company or in connection with legal proceedings.

8.7. Complaining to the UK data protection regulator

You have the right to complain to the Information Commissioners Office (ICO) if you are concerned about the way we have processed your personal information. Please visit the ICO's website for further details.

9. SECURITY / LINKS

9.1. Security measures we put in place to protect your personal information:

Emails are encrypted and sensitive information password protected. Systems are access controlled and wipeable remotely.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal information, we cannot guarantee the security of your information whilst in transit to our website and any transmission is at your own risk.

10. CHANGES TO THIS POLICY

10.1. We may review this policy from time to time and any changes will be notified to you by posting an updated version on our website and/or by contacting you by email. Any changes will take effect 7 days after the date of our email or the date on which we post the modified terms on our website, whichever is the earlier. We recommend you regularly check for changes and review this policy when you visit our website. If you do not agree with any aspect of the updated policy, you must promptly notify us and cease using our services.
